 5 “CC”).

6 Except as expressly admitted herein, Defendants deny the allegations set forth in the CC.
 7 Paragraph numbers in this Answer and the responses contained herein correspond and respond to 11 to which no response is required. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants deny each

 12 heading and sub-heading in the CC and incorporate by reference this response in each paragraph 13 below as if fully set forth therein. To the extent Defendants respond that a document speaks for 14 itself, or refer the Court to a document for a complete and accurate description of its contents,
 15 such assertions shall not be deemed to be an admission that the contents of any such document are 16 truthful, accurate or complete. Any allegations contained in the CC that state a legal conclusion
 17 do not require a response and, to the extent that any response is required, such allegations are 18 denied. Defendants generally deny any averments in the CC’s unnumbered paragraphs,
 19 footnotes, and prayer for relief. Defendants deny any characterization, including bolding, italics

Plaintiff's CC at Section IX contains a jury demand, to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants admit Plaintiff purports to demand a jury trial.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

Without assuming any burden of proof, persuasion, or production not otherwise legally assigned to Defendants as to any element of Plaintiff's claims, whether individual or on behalf of a putative class, Defendants assert the following defenses to the allegations set forth in the CC.

FIRST AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

(No Attribution of Knowledge or Intent)

To the extent that it may be determined that any defendant is responsible for the alleged losses of Plaintiff and the alleged plaintiff class, and acted with the state of mind required under the Exchange Act, such mental state and actions may not be attributed to any other defendant.

SECOND AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

(Lack of Reliance)

The claims of Plaintiff and the alleged plaintiff class are barred, in whole or in part, because Plaintiff and the alleged plaintiff class did not actually, justifiably, reasonably or otherwise rely upon any of the alleged misstatements or omissions set forth in the CC, and have not alleged sufficient facts to avail themselves of the fraud on the market doctrine.

THIRD AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

(Truth on the Market)

The claims of Plaintiff and the alleged plaintiff class are barred, in whole or in part, because information that Defendants allegedly concealed was in fact already disclosed and/or was in the public domain at the time any challenged statements were made and, as such, was at all times reflected in the price of Tesla's stock. In other words, the truth was in the market.

FOURTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

(Assumption of Risk)

The losses of Plaintiff and the alleged plaintiff class, if any, were caused by their assumption of the risks of investment, including but not limited to material facts and risks that were publicly disclosed or in the public domain, or to the extent Plaintiff or members of the alleged plaintiff class had actual or constructive knowledge of the facts alleged in the CC to have been concealed or misrepresented.

FIFTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

(Lack of Inducement and Good Faith Conduct under Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act)

Each of the Director Defendants at all times acted in good faith and did not directly or indirectly induce any act or acts constituting a violation of the Exchange Act. See 15 U.S.C. § 78t(a). The Director Defendants believed at all relevant times, based on information available to them, that statements by Tesla were accurate when made and did not contain any material misstatement or omission of fact. In this respect, the Director Defendants at all times had no knowledge, and were not reckless in not knowing, that any alleged statement or omission was false or misleading. Moreover, no defendant can be liable, as a control person, for statements made by Mr. Musk in his capacity as a bidder and not on behalf of Tesla.

SIXTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

(Failures to Mitigate Damages)

Plaintiff's and the alleged plaintiff class' claims are barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff and members of the alleged plaintiff class failed to make reasonable efforts to mitigate their alleged injury or damage, which efforts would have prevented all or part of any such alleged injury or damage.

SEVENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

(Offset of Damages)

Any harm suffered or damages incurred by Plaintiff or the individual members of the alleged plaintiff class are subject to offset in the amount of any benefit received by Plaintiff or the individual members of the alleged plaintiff class through their investments, including but not limited to any tax, insurance, or indemnification benefit, or proceeds received from hedging or short selling.

EIGHTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

(Contribution and/or Indemnity and Proportional Allocation)

Defendants are entitled to receive contribution and/or indemnity from others for any liability they incur and any recovery for damages or loss allegedly incurred must be reduced, diminished, and/or eliminated as set forth in 15 U.S.C. § 78u-4(f).

NINTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

(Unjust Enrichment)

Any recovery in this action should be precluded or reduced to the extent Plaintiff and members of the alleged plaintiff class would be unjustly enriched.

TENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

(Equitable Defenses)

Plaintiff's and the alleged plaintiff class' claims are barred under such equitable defenses as the evidence demonstrates, including but not limited to the doctrines of waiver, estoppel, unclean hands, and laches.

RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

Defendants presently lack knowledge or information on which to form a belief as to whether they may have available other affirmative or additional defenses, counterclaims, cross claims, or third-party claims not asserted herein, and expressly reserve the right to amend or supplement their answer, defenses and other pleadings to assert such additional defenses or claims in the event that discovery or other investigation indicates that such defenses or claims are appropriate. Defendants also reserve the right to withdraw defenses or claims if discovery and other investigation reveals that such defenses or claims are no longer applicable.

PRAYER

WHEREFORE, Defendants pray for judgment as follows:

1. That the Court refuse to certify this suit as a class action;

2. That plaintiff and members of the alleged plaintiff class take nothing by reason of the claims asserted herein;
3. That judgment be entered in favor of Defendants on all claims asserted herein;
4. For costs of suit herein; and
5. For such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.
